

Desmodium nuttallii; Photos by Chris Frye

Desmodium Identification Workshop

Wednesday September 23, 2020 | 10am – 3pm
Eastern Shore Land Conservancy, Easton, MD

Justin Thomas, Science Director at NatureCite and Instructor at the Institute of Botanical Training, will lead a classroom and field session to demystify difficult Desmodiums.

This workshop provides an opportunity to learn key characteristics that will aid with the identification of challenging Desmodium species, particularly those considered rare in Pennsylvania.

Space is limited! Register here

If safety concerns related to COVID-19 dictate cancellation for 2020, workshop will be rescheduled for 2021.

The workshop is funded by the Pennsylvania Department of Conservation and Natural Resources through a grant from the Wild Resource Conservation Program

